Pops Concert Opens Year Sunday At 8

By Jim Sexter

Raising the curtain on Wartburg's musical season will be the light and popularly "pops" concert by the Wartburg Community orchestra, tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the Knight Gymnasium.

Batoned by Ernest Hagen, director of instrumental music here, the 45-piece group will present excerpts from Bizet's Carmen and Rachmaninoff's "Italian Polka" by Sergei and Rachmaninoff. Leroy Anderson's "Horse and Buggy" will be followed by "Temptation" by Freed and Brown.

"Waltz of the Flowers" from Suite" by Rachmaninoff will present another Rodgers and Hammerstein medley, "Some Enchanted Evening" from South Pacific, featuring Roger Lockard, Watertown senior, as soloist.

Lockard Sings H and H

Lockard will then present another R and H production, "Would Never Walk Alone" from the musical extravaganza "Carousel." The Billy Vaughn hit "Blue Hawaii" will be followed by another Anderson tune, "Jamaican Rumba."

Winding up the evening of musical "Pops" will be a medley from the "Great Waltz" by Rogers and Hammerstein. This will include the tunes "It's a Grand Night for Singing," "It Might as Well Be Spring," "June Is for Me" and "I Love Lucy."

Faculty Roster Completed By 8 Additions

New faculty and staff members take time out from registration. Seated at table are Le Vina Geissler, Charles W. Dickson and Fred H. Hubbard. Standing are Miss Barbara Lazenby, the Rev. Edwin Bode, Lora Mayberry, G. Edwin Sandburg, Robert E. Morris and Richard J. Max.

Marked by 11 changes and replacements, the college faculty is now in full strength, according to Dr. A. E. Hashler, dean of faculty. Eight new full-time teachers and one part-time instructor have been engaged, while two of last year's faculty members have assumed new duties.

Mrs. Florence Bertolet replaces Miss Theron Holt as dean of women. Miss Holt will serve as instructor of business and secretarial science in the English department last year, Mrs. Katherine Love, Ph.D., will serve as assistant professor of German.

Supplementing the retention department is Herbert J. Max, who has been appointed assistant professor of education. He holds a B.S. degree from the University of Chicago, M.S. and M.Ed. degrees from the University of Illinois where he is completing residence work for his Ph.D.

Art at Rockford

Fred Schlueter is taught at Wesley Seminary, Rockford, Ill., and later was with the Rockford Art Institute and Rockford Teachers college, Normal, Ill.

Miss Barbara C. Dr. Edwin F. Sandberg, Jr., has been appointed instructor in the English department. He received his B.A. degree from Wartburg, his B.S. and M.A. degrees from the University of Wisconsin, Evanston, and his Ph.D. from Indiana university, Bloomington.

Coming here from Buena Vista college, Sandberg will also teach English at Purdue university, Lafayette, Ind., and Grand View college, Des Moines.

Secretarial Instructress

Serving as instructor and secretary of women is Miss Le Vina Geissler, who has his master's degree from the State University of Iowa, Iowa City. He has been instructor in mathematics at Grand Island junior college and high school, Neb.

New instructors in speech, dramatics and radio is Charles W. Dickson, Jr., former director of the Grand Services. Dickson has a B.A. degree from Grinnell university, San Mateo, and an M.A. from Stanford university, Palo Alto, Calif. Dickson holds two honorary fraternities and is a member of Phi Beta Kappa.

Fred H. Hubbard has been engaged as instructor in biological science and conservation. He holds a B.S. degree from Iowa State Teachers college, Stevens Point, Wis., and an M.S. degree from Iowa State college, Ames. Hubbard has had 10 years of research for the Wisconsin conservation department.

Now employed as assistant to the registrar is Miss Barbara Lazenby, who graduated from Iowa State Teachers college. Miss Lazenby is a native of Bellevue and has also organized and directed school musical activities.

A certified public accountant, Robert E. Morris, formerly with the Waterloo firm of Hansen, Hall and Morris, is the new instructor of business and secretary to the dean.

Pastor Preacher

The Rev. Edwin G. Schick has been appointed to the staff as assistant professor of religion and pastor to students. The Wartburg graduate will come here from Seattle, Wash., where he has held pastorates. Schick completed his B.D. at Princeton Theological seminary, Princeton, N.J.

Appointed part-time professor of music is Dr. Edward Rutter, retired head of the Iowa State Teachers college music department.

The Rev. Lowell G. Schick presides at the dedication ceremonies for the addition to the chapel-auditorium building. Dedicated to the memory of Dr. Schick's father, the late Rev. Gustav Schick, the addition will house the music department. Schick completed his B.D. at Princeton Theological seminary, Princeton, N.J.

STUDENT VOICE AT 'THE HOME OF THE KNIGHTS'

Volume 19 | Wartburg College, Waverly, Iowa, September 12, 1953 | Number 1

Nurse's Hours Told

Student health program regulations were announced this week by Miss La Vina Geissler, new college nurse. Hours are 7:30 to 10 a.m. and 3 to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

The health office phone is 772 and the house phone of Miss Geissler is in Miss Bryan at Dial 4.

Physical examinations will be held in the Rudolf Memorial clinic Sept. 16, 17 and 21 for men and Sept. 21, 22 and 24 for women.

Biedermann, Curtis At NSA Conference

Eric Biedermann and Sid Curtis, student body president and vice-president, respectively, of the student Body President conference sponsored by the national student association in conjunction with NSA's annual congress at Iowa State university in Columbus, Aug. 20 to 26.

Designed to aid the incoming student body officers in solving common problems through group discussions and panels, the conference will be reported to students at a future student body meeting.

Schlueter Aug.'Girl'

Louise Schlueter, sophomore, was chosen as August Anheuser Busch Girl of the Month by Fred Forbes, the Miss Universe Corporation distributor for Schlueter contacted women in the armed forces.

Publications Issue Call

Organizational meetings of the 1953-54 Publications staffs, TRUMPET, Patrons and Cubs, will be held this week, according to plans announced by Lora Mayberry, '54, editor. All those formerly associated with publications are asked to attend as well as any new students interested in the writing field.

TRUMPET assignments as well as cadidate comments before initial campus publications will be issued.

13 Knight Delegates Attend LSA Ashram

Thirteen present and former Wartburg students attended the annual LSA Ashram at Estherlochen, Mich., Aug. 29 to Sept. 4.

Included in the program were Bible groups, seminars and prominent speakers at the Lutheran student who discussed problems of the college, church and world today.

Dr. Edwin Lieemkuhl, head of the department of religion and Adrian faculty member, led the seventy-seven student Wartburg delegation. Pastor Ross Bay Becker was speaker at the evening vespers. Arts and entertainment with Keith Jonson, Ted Waring, euphonium soloist, and Dr. Lieemkuhl.

Former Wartburgians at the Ashram were Herbert Bolter, Art Pfeiffer, Ruth Ann Schroeder, Marcella Bowe, Lee Roscoe Meisner and Jean Volkmann.

Carrying the theme "Learning Through Leadership," the 1953 conference with Student Secretariat was held Tuesday in Grossmann hall lounge. One of the club-presidents, student senators and class presidents attended.

Under the guidance of SBP Eric Biedermann and Vice-president Sid Curtis the group made tentative plans for the year and recent elected Executive of an Activities Advisory board to be set up in connection with Student Senate.

Pres. C. E. Becker, Public Relations Bro. Edwin Friend and Miss Eldora Flagge, school treasurer, presented the Wartburg situation aside.

According to Biedermann, plans are now being made to form the NSA as a permanent campus body composed of club and publications heads interested in the NSA. Also voting power in Senate, the new body will function as a clearing house for the various campus organizations.

In his talk to student leaders, Dr. Becker stressed the fact that strong student-faculty relations might well be key to success in a local college.

"Education is not a limited affair," the president said in the process by which we build strong, but it is also cooperative, friendly and learning. This can be done only through the right relationships between students and faculty both in and out of the classroom."

Chi Rho To Gather

Initiating another year in the service of pre-theological students, Chi Rho will hold an organizational meeting tomorrow at 2 p.m. in the Little Theater. Sponsored by Chi Rho will be the Rev. Erwin Groth, Parmeter, according to Ken Trauschenbach, president of the group.

Dorm On Schedule—Union Dream Grows

Work progresses on the east wing of Centennial hall, new women's dorm, slated for completion in July, 1954. Much of the superstructure has been erected and plumbing and wiring have been installed in the ground floor.

With the new dorm one-third in by winter and completed next summer, Student Marshall Jahn, according to the contractor, union plans nearing the blueprint C. J. Stevens, the heating, plumbing and wiring has been installed, and construction is going according to schedule.

Iowa Votes Donation

At the August meeting the Women's Missionary federation of the Iowa district voted to ask each of its 4,000 members for another dollar, according to Miss Ruth Greenfield, project. According to Irene G. H. Becker, the group has already donated $6,700 for furnishing the home.

Two Wartburg women students will be appointed to the committee which will purchase the house furnishings.

Each of the thousand of Presbyterian Missionary federation's Iowa district will be asked to give one dollar toward furnishing the new student home at Wartburg. Plans for the building, which seats 100 people, with two wings, are now in progress, serving on the building committee.

Union Two-Story

Tentative plans call for a two story building and tower which will house a cafeteria, social and recreational facilities, offices for student government organizations, alumni and public relations, as well as a chapel.

Other building changes during the past summer include the addition of two classroom rooms in the basement of Grossmann hall and the moving of Alpha house (Annex D) to the corner of 11th street NW.

Alpha house is the fourth frame house to be moved off the campus since June 1950. The others are Bethia house, Cotta house and the home economics building.

Donna Hay Takes First In Editorial Contest

Donna Hay, freshman at Wartburg last year and now attending Iowa State college, was awarded a $50 cash prize, first prize in the 1953 national Roberts Award editorial writing contest for college students.

David Geske, 1953 Wartburg graduate, and Jerry Haver, junior, collected $30 honorable mention prizes for their entries.

Last spring Donna received a $10 first place award in local campus competition while Geske and Haver each received $5. All the editorials were written for classes under Miss Margaret Wolff, of the English and journalism department.

General subject for the editorials last year was "Social Drinking—Its Effect on Civilization." Wartburg has a national rating annually for the past six years. Since 1951 it has been one of 20 colleges in the nation to be granted an assured $25 in prizes on its own campus.

We're Just Common Property

Hi there!

So you're back, eh? Thought for sure you'd be in the army or something. But you made it anyway—good enough.

And how about you? Weren't you the one who was going to transfer? Decided against it, eh? Well, can't blame you.

Sure looks around here like there's just a name again? Oh, a freshman. Well, that's too bad, but you'll get over it. Only kidding, of course—everyone's glad to see you, even if they do consider you a strange, gawking kid who just got off the train. You aren't really, you know. You're a college student now, an intelligent man or woman of the world. Besides, passenger trains don't travel through here.

And you freshman girls, you're the talk of the campus right now, whether you realize it or not. Haven't you noticed the unwavering eyes of the upperclassmen that have been trained on you? There'll be more than that, too, because one of these weekends a whole horde of seen boys will swarm down here from Dubuque to see what intelligent women are.

Well, you're all here, anyway—that's all that matters. Good to see you and welcome to Wartburg!

Uh . . . we're here too. You know, the TRUMPET—that thing your upperclassmen used to read occasionally and some of you freshmen got through the mail last year. Yeah . . . well, we're here, ready to serve you every week (almost every week) during the next two semesters.

That's right, to SERVE you. It's hard to believe, but it's true. The TRUMPET is yours, as much as it is anyone's. Look at the little squib right below the nameplate on page one. Student voice in the Home of the Knights,' it says.

You're the student . . . we provide the vocal chords. Together we have a "student voice." We've got news, but you're the ones that make the news. We've got a sports section, but we aren't the ones that are out there covering on the ground. We've got humor columns, but even when there is something funny in them, it's about you.

In other words, we're just reporting on what you don't think is right, or if you just want to let off some steam, write us a letter. If it isn't libelous and you sign it, we'll print it. Send us lots of letters—we're lonely and don't get much mail. Unless you prefer the sorphus method, it's really the best way to make yourself heard around here.

So you see, it's really your paper as much as it is ours.

Let's have a good year—together!

Footnotes To Faith:

You've Signed Up For Religion --- What Now?

By Dr. John Hirtner
Head of the Philosophy Department

By the time practically every student has signed up—more or less voluntarily—for a course in religion,

What will these courses do to our students?

Usually there are three kinds of objectives in these classes:

1. There is the student who does not take the course in religion seriously. He is "doing time" in class. He has nothing against religion. Neither has he any love for it. He has graduated from Bible study long ago, perhaps at the ripe age of 14, when he was confirmed.

Besides, what has religion to do with mathematics or chemistry or history? It is hard to say who is to be pitied more in this case—the student or the teacher.

2. There is the student who is doing some real thinking as he studies his courses. Although he will not openly say so, he becomes disappointed. He will conclude that the Bible, the creeds, and the hymns used in college raise serious questions. The student gradually finds out that he has been given a stone instead of a spiritual bread-ship. If Christian youth cannot face the hardships and struggles of life, religion is not for him. Education, then, is a handicap.

"The Lutheran college is never meant to be a nice cloister of academic seclusion. Not to help youth to rid of the world, but to help them with a living faith of victory, that they may go out into the world as Christian teachers, engineers, farmers, clerks and characters—this is the meaning of Christian education."

3. There is, finally, the student who thinks that nothing that he reads or hears can shake him. He is supremely proud of himself.

Happy is the student who possesses a living personal faith. But hundreds of these people have suffered spiritual shipwreck, when the real tests of life came. "Let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall." (I Cor. 10:12)

Very often these people have closed their eyes to the danger of spiritual pride, and their hearts and minds to fresh insights into the truth.

Which of these students need our prayers most?

The President Speaks

A MESSAGE FROM DR. C. H. BECKER

President Becker

As students return to the campus of Wartburg college for a new school year, or as they come for the first time, they do so, I am sure, with mixed feelings. For many it means simply a continuation of a previously followed course—to others it means the beginning of the last year of college. Only a few return and they will be wearing the cap and gown.

A few are resuming their studies after an interlude which was filled with a whole lifetime of experiences with the realities of war. For places on the face of the earth—for many it means a second home—have become familiar to the whole book of Service Men. Some have used to living with others than those of their immediate family and friends of their own race. Others are mixed feelings, joy, sorrow, achievement, boredom, anxiety, enthusiasm, superiority, determination, gratitude.

Is it possible under such circumstances for us to count on common ground? Is there anything that all of us have in common? We have all, in the fellowship of which we are God's children, that we are a common possession of Christ as my Lord and Savior. It is in His name that I greet you and bid you welcome to Wartburg college. May this year be for you a blessed and a profitable year.

As co-workers together with Christ it shall be the aim and desire of those of us who are members of the faculty and staff to be of service to you in the realization of your goals, the development of your mind and intellect, the deepening of your spiritual life.

It promises to be a good year. We have a fine student body of over 600. We have an unusually well-qualified faculty and staff. During the activity period of the first week the complete Reformation ballet, our new girls' dormitory, and completion of plans for the Student Memorial union will be brought before the constituents of the college can begin before the end of 1954.

Every organization has made plans for service to others during the year, and I am sure that all of us are eager to be of service in the classroom. It can be the best year in the history of our college, if we determine that with God's help it shall be so. What is your decision?

DOCKET DOPE

By
Eric Biedermann, SBP

STAFF SQUEAKS

THEY TELL US there's somewhat of a housing problem here. Don't tell it to Grossmann, he's piping pong addicts. What with six dormitory residents, the ping-pong court area used to be, there's hardly room to swing a paddle, let alone for a wild game of solitaire.

SOME COLLEGE PEOPLE are just plain statistically minded—So Rockey of the Waverly Daily Post observation recently that she thought that there was a rather brilliant freshman class this year. Seems she had heard that the admissions source that had the freshmen pegs in the upper 60 per cent of their class.

THINGS DO IMPROVE around here. THEORY congrats go to whoever was responsible for replacing the old lighting up the hats on Student Council and also for finishing the flagpole.

Student Government: Every group must have representation. Without organization and the use of some democratic principles of administration a group will flounder about in search of a means to carry forth its objectives.

The Wartburg Student Body is organized—organized in such a manner that each student is equally represented by 16 senators, four from each class. The representative body is called the Student Senate.

Here at Wartburg the concept prevails that students, faculty and administration are partners in the educational community. As such the partners are willing to enter a cooperative enterprise. Together we strive to attain the objectives of the greatest policies. Always mindful of the fact that we are "Soldiers' servus to God and country."

In order for our Student Government to maintain the scope of its responsibility each student must recognize his individual responsibility and power as a citizen. He must be for each senate to be fully represented in all student activities and to give it his active support. Thus, the success of the Student Senate depends upon the willingness of the students—we must improve, promote and extend.

The thing to do is walk past and exclaim on the beauties of the late summer, early autumn, crisp, fresh air and the fine sun we've been having. But this is one column that is not going away from the problems of the world. Our freshman women's copy. So, run down to one choice—freshman men.

And speaking of freshmen; men, all upperclass girls shall have a right to see to it that these freshmen boys are neither hemlock nor lonesome in any way during the no-fail period.

A few rules to remember, fresh. Just a few friendly tips while the days are still long and the sun is still shining. Remember, you may smile selves into attitudes of servitude and touching little sands to the upperclass girls. Remember the thing to do is walk past and exclaim on the beauties of the late summer, early autumn, crisp, fresh air and the fine sun we've been having.

And always read the TRUMPET, but read this column first because after this week, it is to be replaced by a classified index.

2. Write your parents (stamps available at bookstore) to be sure and buy a subscription to this paper, so they will know what you are doing.

3. Girls, pay no heed to the attention shown by upperclass fellows. This is their favorite time of year, you understand, what with seeing so many new faces . . . but they soon settle into proverbial "hole in the road"—usually with the first week-end.

Tips 4, 5, 6% Don't think that all the upperclass you will be doing is in vain, because it will. Don't think the freshman projects we've been giving you are all in vain. That is a terrible place. It's a wonderful place, after you get acquainted.

For 2 Cents I'd . . .

By Jerry Haver

Hello, kiddies. Here I sit, typewriter before me, TRUMPET Reus Ed. Staff, SBP, MAC meeting over, cosy, Glenlord Copyboy Gordon Hess at my left, pencil, pencil, and Jim (The Five Year Plan) Hoffmann at my right, my shoulder. Cigarette in hand, I ponder over the problem of tons of humorous incidents . . . but where am I going to make it? Right gently through my head.

See Pope Concert Sunday

What's with all those crazy green caps? Every freshman has them. Is there a law that: Don't worry, upperclassmen— they'll be out after two months.

See Pope Concert Sunday

I remember the good old days before registration was simplified. Freshmen, let me tell you about them. We used to stand in line over at Luther Hall a long time just to register for a few classes. Sometimes I would be there so close we stood in lines all morning in numbers, so close we stood in lines all the next morning, to get a number, and then wonder for program.

See Pope Concert Sunday

"Now you pay your bills" said the registrar. So I stepped over to the Wartburg Treasurer's office. "Name, please," scribbled the clerk where you pay your bills." I've been here twenty years, but I thought it was a little early to be paying my tuition . . .

"Name, yes," chimed Miss Pfiggie. "I have no money, I said. "Then how do you expect to pay this bill?" Excitedly, I said as, "I'm working for the campus crew!" Why did she laugh at me?

See Pope Concert Sunday

Anyway, it's good to be back at Wartburg recording our trips for ye old TRUMPET. With the giant new recording studio in the basement of the Music Conservatory. No, that's Miss Conde. Never, never could her colleen ill rest ain't dede. . . .

Grid Squad Finishes 1st Week Of Drills

By Dick Lynch

As the Knight forces, over 40 strong, bring their first full week of practice sessions to a close, the usual number of problems have cropped up to plague the coaching staff.

The squad will have a full-scale scrimmage today, just one week before the Augsburg opener here under the lights.

Despite the absence of many returning veterans, the contest week in the opening drills, several of the more prominent Knights are on the disabled list with injuries. Chief casualty thus far has been Chuck Schumann, a letter-winning linebacker last year and foremost in the mind of Coach Norm Johansen when it comes to building this year's line.

Hurt Playing Basketball

Schumann is under doctor's orders to lay out of contact work for at least two weeks because of damage done to a knee while playing base ball this summer.

Ken Wesenberg has been kept to the sidelines with a stiff neck and recurring headaches. Chuck Rose is being withheld from contact work until at least Tuesday, pending a closer physical examination. Ray Reahmd, who will be seeing action on his fourth grid letter this fall, is hobbled by a back strain.

One of the promising freshman backs, Bill Bernhardt, has bruised a rib and is forced to take it slow in scrimmage.

Schedule Provides Trouble

Another problem of importance has been the difficulty in working practices so that all the do-zen men on the squad get a fair chance. Johansen has split the squad into two teams, with first and second stringers practicing together. Each team has been kept on 6:30 a.m. and 4 p.m. practice schedules.

Fifteen of the 16 games set for termen have reported. Schumann, Wesenberg, Rose, Reahmd, Wyneken, Hank Waltmann, Bill Bonnow, Ev Bishman, Ted Fritschel, Rudy Grube, Bob Keiser, Jerry Lundstrom, Gary Lundberg, Ed Faspe and Paul Keyl's are back in togs.

Another 1952 monogram winner, Gordie Kopitzke, will be back in uniform in a week or so. Right now he's the sturdy Back in playing basehill for Allison in the regional tournament at Watertown, S. D.

Coaches Bemoan Prospects

By Dick Lynch

Coaches are by nature a pessimistic lot. Talk with Wartburg's staff of football bosses and you'll see that they're unfortunate in that respect—convincingly, too.

The Knights' trouble spot will apparently be in the line. Head coach Norm Johansen and Chuck Rose at the linemen we lost from last year all of whom will over see pounds. And this year we'll have to replace them with men retread erably smaller and less experienced.

Schumann Should Help

"We'll have had a chance to see the freshmen under fire set," he goes on. "It's hard to tell if we'll get any help from them although it does look like Larry Schoening could make the grade at end. What Chuck Schumann gets back in action it should help our line greatly. He's quite a bulwark moving him to tackle this year to get a little more power up front."

Assistant Wilmer Froehling sees a few possibilities among the new linemen he's been working with.

Bremer Bright Prospect

Regarding Milford Bremer, a 210-pound tackle from Metropolis, Froehling remarked, "Just how good he'll be coming along pretty well—he's shown improvement in just the last few days. If he can shed a few more pounds he'll do us some good, because he's aggressive enough."

Key to the Knights' success this year seems to be a potent aerial game. Both Ted Fritschel and Chuck Rose each provide the necessary magic to complement the wizardry of end Wendy Lienecke.

We may be able to break up a few ball games with Fritschel working his run-pass-optional play and Rose using his running pass from left half," states Jo.

Nine Diamondmen Serve Home Clubs For Past Summer

By Fred Gannaway

Knight diamondmen proved valuable to several home-town clubs this summer as many of the returning stickmen saw extensive action.

Lanz Leon Rebrand, senior letterman, batted for an .864 average with 44 runs batted up an impressive 102 record as the pastoral first baseman from Rhine aide worked with Waverly, turning in a masterful fielding job along with steady hitting.

Stan Kittleson, sophomore plate man, saw regular action with St. Ansgar, while south clover Bob Vogel managed an impressive batting percentage team in Kenesaw.

Playing his senior year field position with Allison, senior Gordie Kopitzke will a constant long ball hitter and is taking part in the American Baseball congress playoffs at Watertown this week-end.

Readlys employed the services of sophomore Bob Koschmeier and senior Wayne Kuethe, while senior Ted Fritschel saw action with West Side A.C., member of the Metro Del league in Philadelphia, Pa.
